Don't Make Your Wife a Kitten.

In a story in the September Woman's Home Companion, this scene occurs: "Maybe I am a kitten," she said, addressing the door. "Certainly at the present moment I feel as if I might at any time become a cat. And I don't like those two men. They're tricky and mean. I've heard father say so. But, most of all, I don't like to be told exactly what to do. I'm almost surprised that Mark thought I was intelligent enough to be his wife. As if a woman 23, a college graduate, with a year of special study in pol. econ. couldn't handle a little affair like the hotel laundry! 'I'll tell you exactly what I'll do!' If that had been the first time he'd said it—but no, he's told me, in a kind, superior way, how to do everything, in every little trifling affair that has come up." She turned and regarded herself in a mirror paneled on one of the doors. "I don't look so incapable. I should say my features displayed almost human intelligence. Oh, dear! what a wicked, ungrateful thing I am to be thinking about Mark this way, and—why—it's disloyalty to him—that's what it is." Her blue eyes darkened and dilated with tragedy. She looked down the vista of the years in a vivid flash of imagination and saw her self, as so many wives before her have done, living her life beside a man who was an utter stranger to the wonderful being who had wooed and won her, yet in his likeness, woefully changed.

TROUBLE NOW PAST CLIMAX

Drastic Action Taken Against I. W. W. Is Having Its Effect.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Threatened labor disturbances in war industries on the Pacific coast and in the Northwest have passed their climax, officials declared yesterday, and conditions in the affected districts are rapidly improving. The swift and drastic action taken by the government to suppress the threatened general I. W. W. strikes in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana Aug. 21, officials said, had a discouraging effect upon the leaders. So far as can be ascertained, no new disturbances are contemplated by the organization. Hundreds of members, it was said, have become dissatisfied and in certain localities many already have indicated their desire to leave the organization.

DELAY FIXING WHEAT PRICE.

It is Understood Difference of Opinion Developed at Committee Meeting.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The committee headed by H. A. Garfield named by President Wilson to recommend the price for the 1917 wheat crop failed to reach an agreement last night and will continue deliberations to-day. It had been announced that a price would be fixed at last night's meeting. Members of the committee declined to discuss the situation, but it is understood, several votes were taken. It had been decided earlier that a three-fourths vote would determine the price. The fact that a conclusion was not reached was taken to mean that considerable differences of opinion has developed as to what is a fair valuation of the crop.
